FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1888

THERE is some of the Eastern States a movement in opposite directions. Trusts are being formed to increase the prices of products, while the same companies are combining to reduce wages. Strikes are reported in different cities to prevent a reduction in wages, while the markets of the whole country are affected by the rise in the price of products. The power to do one implies the power to do the other. If a combination is so comprehensive that no competitor can produce the same article, it must employ all the labor that is engaged in that industry. If the sugar trust can drive all other refiners from the field it will, of course, be the only employer in the sugar industry. It will have the power to raise the price of its product and depress the rates of labor. The greed of the trusts may work their own ruin. When it becomes apparent to the people that a few men who have combined to control different industries have set out to reduce wages while advancing the prices of products, there will be an expression of popular indignation that may put an end to trusts.

THE little State of Rhode Island has just completed its census. The population is 304,284, a few thousand less than the estimated population of San Francisco. There are 118,070 people in Providence, its largest city, and the average population to the square mile is 288. As in most of the old thickly populated States, the females outnumber the males, there being 157,891 of the former to 146,393 of the latter. In this little State, where there must be a school house in sight from almost any point, there are 28,313 who cannot read or write. It is claimed, however, and probably with truth—that the illiterates are mostly included in the 85,561 foreign-born residents of the State. But Rhode Island, if small in territory, is rich in money. The savings banks hold $40,876,390 of the people's money. One-fifth of the people work in manufacturing establishments. The fact that a State so largely given up to manufacturing industries should have so handsome a bank account indicates fairly good wages.

We notice, says the Salt Lake Tribune, that Representative Oates, of Alabama, has introduced a bill providing for the leasing of grazing lands for periods not to exceed ten years. Mr. Oates is a very bright man; he is on the right track, but does not understand the situation, if he designs his bill to cover the mountainous regions in the West. On lands which can never be reduced to cultivation the leases should be made for ten years, with the privilege of indefinite renewals, for the reason that men who might obtain such leases would fence the lands, build their stations upon them, and expect to make them permanent headquarters, which they would not do for ten years. In this way the Government would eventually obtain more money for her barren mountains, acre for acre, than she did for the Mississippi Valley.

ALASKA makes a pretty good showing. Governor Swineford reports that in 1887 from there was marketed: In gold, $1,300,000; fish, $3,000,000; furs, $2,500,000; and lumber, $100,000, or a total of only $50,000 less than was paid for the country by Secretary Seward. Time is abundantly vindicating the wisdom of the purchase. It is a vast country. Its inhabitants only number 10,000, and many of these are Indians. If ten thousand people, many of them mere savages, can make such a showing what may we hope for in the future? It is full time for the Government to give that country the order which comes of wise laws.

MERCED, California, turned on the water Wednesday with due ceremonies. The event is worth celebrating. Merced occupies a position midway between the regions of the San Joaquin Valley which are dependent upon and those which are independent of irrigation. The great irrigation scheme takes the agriculture of the district out of the domain of chance into that of surety.

AN editor in a Southern State wrote a fine article upon the text, "The State should pension Confederate veterans." He checked his baggage for Cincinnati next day, when it appeared in the paper, "The State should pension Confederate veterans."

WOODBURN'S RESOLUTION.

He Wants the Alaska Commercial Company Investigated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Following are the preamble and resolution introduced into the House by Woodburn, of Nevada, in relation to the report of Governor Swineford, of Alaska, assigning the Alaska Commercial Company, and Governor Swineford's report complete:

WHEREAS, A. P. Swineford, the Governor of Alaska Territory, in his report to the Secretary of the Interior for the fiscal year 1887, arraigns the Alaska Commercial Company for a flagrant and outrageous abuse of the powers and privileges conferred upon it by the Government of the United States; and

WHEREAS, The foregoing statements are substantially corroborated by other officers and citizens of the government having knowledge thereof; and

WHEREAS, The charges therein contained involve the rights, liberties and property of American citizens, the development and prosperity of one of the most important territories of the Union, and the character and honor of the nation itself, the obligations of duty resting upon the administration now in power, as well as upon Congress, to the American people, demand that Congress investigate at once the truth of the statements herein before recited from the report of Governor Swineford, to the end that if found true the extraordinary powers and privileges heretofore granted by Congress to said company be promptly rescinded, and such provisions made as will protect the property of the government and the rights of American citizens in the territory of Alaska. Now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives do, and he hereby authorized and instructed to appoint a committee of five members of the House, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the truth of the statements hereinbefore recited, and whether the lease under which said company is now operating is conducive to the best interests of the government of the United States, and whether it would be just and expedient for the government to terminate the same, and to take charge of said islands, and to take upon itself the care and custody of the seal life on said islands and the waters of the Alaska Territory, and that said committee shall, when so constituted, be authorized to employ a stenographer, with full power to send for persons and papers, books and vouchers, and report thereon with all convenient speed to this House.

NEAL DOW.

The Prohibition Leader Discourses on the Third Party.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 2.—General Neal Dow, in an interview with a New York World correspondent, talked of the third party and its influence in the coming campaign. He thought the Republican party everywhere was thoroughly committed to the liquor interests. As a Democrat, he thought Cleveland's message had given the Republicans a chance for success, for it affords them the opportunity to argue that the protection of home industry will be the real issue in the Presidential campaign. He thought the Prohibition vote would be greatly increased at the next Presidential election, and that the third party would poll fifty thousand votes in New York. Republicans could not carry that State, as the Prohibitionists would concentrate their efforts in New York and do some work in Ohio. General Fisk, of New Jersey, would be the standard-bearer. When asked as to his opinion of Mr. Blaine, General Dow replied: "Mr. Blaine is personally a temperance man and prohibitionist. I voted for him in 1884, thinking that if he would be elected the Republican party would recover the confidence and respect of the country. I shall not vote for him in the coming election, as it is no longer a question of a candidate for the reason that Prohibition cannot win in the lifetime of the Republican party."

FROM WASHINGTON.

Action Taken Upon Important Measures by Committees.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The House Committee on Pacific Railroads entered upon the formal consideration of the various bills on its calendar today. Outhwaite's bill and that proposed by the majority of the Pacific Railroad Committee were read over carefully and few verbal changes were made.

The committee this morning concluded to listen to any limited statements which representatives of the Central Pacific and Union Pacific companies might care to present. Accordingly the Clerk has been instructed to notify persons concerned, when the committee will next week give them an opportunity to be heard upon the different railroad bills.

The House Committee on War Claims has agreed to report favorably the bill to reimburse the several States for interest on money expended by them on account of raising troops employed in aiding the United States in suppressing the late rebellion.

The House Committee on Mines and Mining has agreed to report favorably the bill providing for the investigation of the mining debris question in the State of California.

THE RIO BONITO BOOM.

The Wise Ladies of Biggs Promoting the Cause of Education.

Biggs, Cal., Feb. 1.—The ladies of Biggs tendered a reception at Hamilton Hall last night to Rev. Dr. J. D. Hammond and F. D. Bovard, the committee from San Francisco representing Bishop Fowler in selecting a site for the proposed Methodist Episcopal College, of Northern California. The hall was decorated with evergreens and appropriate mottoes, such as "Let Us Educate," "Welcome Guests," etc. There were addresses by Dr. Hammond, Dr. Stimmens, Rev. Marsh and G. S. Young, closing with a grand banquet, seating 200 people at each table, at which speeches, toasts and repartee abounded. Two four-in-lanes, waving banners, conveyed the committee over the Rio Bonito Colony tract, the proposed site, to-day. The committee returns to San Francisco to-night to report to Bishop Fowler, when the deed will be made and the building commenced.

A Youthful Pyromaniac.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Little May Wilson, an eleven-year-old child, who has several times set fire to the Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled, was in Yorkville Police Court this morning. She sometimes wept bitterly, and again looked vacantly about the Courtroom, as though fearful of her surroundings. The child would answer no questions of Judge Murray that required any other reply than "yes" or "no." She was turned over to the Children's Society for the present.

Of Vast Importance to Americans. LONDON, Feb. 3.—M. Waterson (Conservative) has been elected without opposition to the House of Commons for the Walton division of Liverpool, made vacant by resignation of Mr. Gibson who recently accepted an Irish Judgeship.

Dodgson H. Madden (Conservative) who ran for Dublin University on his appointment as Solicitor-General of Ireland has been re-elected without opposition.

Preparing for War

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—It is stated that in accordance with suggestions received from the Imperial war authorities, the Canadian Government will include in the estimates for the militia and defense department this year a considerable sum towards the commencement of works for coast defenses. The repairing of the fortifications at Victoria, B. C., will probably be the first work undertaken.

A Ghastly Discovery.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A chemist named Derby, and his wife and six children, have been found dead in their dwelling house at Manchester. Their death was evidently caused by poison. They had been dead several days. It is believed that the man given to despondency by his inability to support his family administered poison to them and then committed suicide.

A Powder Mill Destroyed.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3.—The granulating mill of the Austin Powder Company was blown up this morning, killing Engineer Wright. Not a vestige of the mill remains. The report of the explosion was heard a mile and a half away.

Dynamiters Sentenced.

MAIL-RISING.

The Marriage of Miss Annie Rising to John R. Vail.

The Virginia Enterprise gives the following account of the marriage of John Randolph Vail, of Churchill county, to Miss Annie Rising, daughter of Judge Richard Rising, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Virginia City last evening:

Invitations to the number of nearly 1,000 were issued a few days ago to friends to attend the marriage ceremony at the church, which took place at 8:30 o'clock, and before the hour arrived the church was completely filled. The altar was tastefully decorated with banks of evergreens, ivy vines and palm leaves, pepper vines and festoons of ivy, and the entire church garlanded with evergreens and brilliantly lighted—all the work of dear friends. Soon after 8 o'clock the organist played the first March from Lohengrin, and the bride party entered in the following order: Three ushers entered first—Charles Colburn, Archie McDonnell and Aleck McCone—all dressed in the conventional black; then Mrs. Richard Rising on her son, Herbert's arm; then the first Maid of Honor, Miss Edith Rising, and the two bridesmaids, Miss Avery Yerington and Miss Nettie Rising; next came the bride, leaning on her father's arm. The party walked through the aisle in the above order, and the ushers turned to the left and the bridesmaids to the right. The groom and best man and the Rev. Mr. Ridgely came out of the vestry and met the party at the altar. The above ceremony is in accordance with the fashion of the English Church. As the last notes died away Rev. Laurence B. Ridgely commenced the marriage ceremony, so well known. The bride couple knelt on a cushion of white satin silk, and Mrs. James A. Stephens sang "Call Me Thine Own."

At the close of the marriage ceremony the organist played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the bride party left the church. The party then entered carriages and were driven to the residence of Judge Rising, at the corner of Howard and Taylor streets, and there received the congratulations of many friends who called.

THE HUMBOLDT RIVER.

A Committee investigating the Water Question.
The Silver State, of the 2d inst. publishes the following: A committee appointed by the farmers of Big Meadows have been on a tour of inspection up the river. They looked at every dam erected in the river for the purpose of diverting water from its natural bed for irrigating purposes, as for East as Palisade Canyon. They found an immense tract of land, from four to six or eight miles wide, along the river that might be irrigated, and the owners of which in several places appear to be adopting measures to irrigate.
The use of the river water is a question which concerns every settler in the Humboldt valley, and it is predicted that the Courts will sooner or later be called upon to settle it. The farmers of Big Meadows are taking a lively interest in the matter, and if any attempt is made to divert the water into valleys other than that along the river, proceedings will be commenced at once to prevent them from doing so. Waste of water will also be looked after and prevented, as without water the rich agricultural lands above the sink of the Humboldt would be valueless. In ordinary seasons there is water enough in the Humboldt river, if used systematically, to irrigate the whole valley and make it one of the most productive in the United States. All concerned should meet or be represented in a convention to devise a method for utilizing the Humboldt river, and, unless they do so, litigation is certain to ensue.

Speculators and Home Seekers.
Last Monday, says the Carson Appeal, James A. Kennedy visited Preble & Young at Rio Bonito, and was taken in by the enterprising proprietors to the tune of twenty acres of land. The San Francisco Examiner says that Preble & Young have not only a corner of Paradise, but Paradise itself. A long list of Nevadans have engaged a home in Paradise, among them being Mrs. H. C. Mygatt, once Mrs. Senator W. E. Sharon, of Virginia City, Mr. Kennedy, of Carson, A. Abrahams, and J. S. Shoemaker, of Reno, A. B. Miller, of Elko, and Joseph Mandel, formerly of Virginia City.
It is said that every Nevadan who ever visited the colony in Butte county, California, has been so charmed with the place that he has purchased a home of not less than 20 acres.

New Mines Discovered.
Silver State: E. J. Perry has discovered new mines in the Summit Springs range, about 50 miles southeast of Winnemucca. Several locations have been made, all of which look well. One of the ledges is about 30 feet wide, with streaks of ore through it which assay from 55 to 95 ounces in silver and 66 per cent. lead, and from $4 to $6 per ton in gold. The discoveries are stockmen, and know but very little about mining, but the ore which they bring to town indicates that they have good mines.

Nellie Boyd Company.
The Los Angeles Express says: There was another large crowd at the Rink last night to see Miss Boyd and her excellent company in the thrilling melodrama "Paseon's Slave." Miss Boyd again delighted her audience with the fire of her intelligent acting and takes a warm place in the hearts of our theatre-going public. The performance was an excellent one in all respects. "Paseon's Slave" will be presented at the theatre next Monday evening. Secure your seats now.

A Brakeman Injured.
Yesterday morning, says the Virginia Enterprise, John Savage, a brakeman, was knocked off the top of a box car on E street by striking against the Savage trestle. He fell on his left knee and both hands. He walked home with a little assistance, but the pain soon became so intense that he sent for Dr. Kirby, the physician of the Railroad Benevolent Association, who dressed the wounds and made him as comfortable as possible. There were no fractures.

A Handsome Showing.
Another dividend of fifty cents a share payable February 10, will be declared by the Con. Cal. & Va. mine. This will make the fourteenth dividend since the new ore discovery in the north end of the mine in October, 1885, aggregating a total of $1,512,000, distributed to shareholders in fifteen months, with a handsome surplus remaining in the treasury.

Self-Explanatory.
SUMMIT HOUSE, Feb. 2, 1888.
EDITOR GAZETTE:—I have just heard that I have a case of small-pox in the house. I positively deny the charge. Dr. Dawson was called here to see Mrs. Gibbons, who has been sick for four weeks with measles and rheumatism. Dr. Dawson never said here that she had the smallpox. Respectfully, W. E. JONES.

"Still in Suspense."
No news concerning the appointment of Directors of the State Board of Agriculture by the Governor to fill the expired terms of C. C. Powling, L. J. Flint, and Joseph Marzen, has yet been made public, although it is tacitly understood that one of the three named above will be reappointed; in fact, a well-known citizen this morning offered to bet a new hat that the one alluded to now had his appointment "in his inside pocket." In deference to the majority of the gentleman and for fear that the GAZETTE will again be accused of knowing too much about other people's business, the name of the alleged lucky aspirant will not be made public at this time.

Religion Should Thrive There.
Since the big storm and the thaw, says the Virginia Enterprise, our undermined community has taken a fresh start in its downward and eastward slide. Houses all along C street can be heard to crack and crush in the still hours of the night. The gas mains in Gold Hill and Virginia have been badly ruptured, and the big water pipes are also in the same fix. It is all caused by the settling motion of the ground under us, and it is enough to make timid people a little nervous.

REAL ESTATE
PREBLE & YOUNG,
Real Estate Agents, Country and City Properties in Nevada and California.
For Sale.

$30,000. Mrs. Howard offers her ranch for sale. The ranch is on the Virginia road, the most delicious of all the country roads in Nevada. It is located eight miles from Reno and in a fertile agricultural section.
The ranch consists of about 90 acres and a valuable water right. The ranch has long had the reputation of being one of the most productive of its size of all the ranches in the Truckee Meadows. This year it has produced 800 tons of hay, 50 cows for 300 head of stock, vegetables and other products in value about $5,000. By the expenditure of a few hundred dollars the ranch could be made to be even much more productive than it is at present.
The soil is admirably adapted to the raising of alfalfa, stock and vegetables. It has an excellent house, barn and other buildings, a good orchard and other improvements. Price, $30,000; 1/4 cash and the remainder in five equal annual installments. Interest at 5 per cent. per annum.

$13,500. A. B. Smith's ranch located about five miles southeast from Reno is offered for sale. It consists of 400 acres, which will be sold at $30 per acre, or for $13,500 and on easy terms of payment. There is on the place a good house of eight rooms, two barns and other buildings. The place has plenty of fine irrigating water and is situated on the springs of excellent drinking water. The ranch yielded this year 350 tons of hay, and pasture value at not less than $1200.
The total valuation of this year's yield is not less than $5,000, and some years the yield has amounted to much as $5,000.
As the ranch consists chiefly of pasture and meadow land, the expense of running the place is exceedingly small. The ranch is especially desirable as a stock range and for this purpose would yield a handsome profit.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.
The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be overestimated. Mr. C. K. Phillips, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "About three years ago I had severe Laryngitis, which resulted in chronic hoarseness. By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I have since entirely regained my health." Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Several members of my family suffered severely with it, all of whom took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and were cured by it in a few days. It is a wonderful medicine for Influenza.
Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1847, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr.
J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Stiers, Germantown, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has cured a Cough in a few doses. It always relieves irritation of the lungs or throat, and arrests the tendency to inflammation. It strikes at the foundation of all Pulmonary diseases; is without a rival as an expectorant, and is a sure cure for the most obstinate Coughs and Colds. L. Garrett, Texana, Texas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twenty years. For throat and lung diseases, I consider it a wonderful remedy." dearly love to ramble over ancient buildings, and one of this kind Lord F.'s castle certainly is. I was assigned to a room which my friend told me had never been opened since he could remember. This was done at my own request, and I found that my apartment was a large room with a high wainscoting. The bed, a ponderous affair, stood in the middle of the room. It was made of oak, the sides coming down to the floor. On examining it I discovered what seemed to be a door in its side, but being unable to open it I gave the matter no more thought. That night about three o'clock I suddenly awoke, and to my great horror I beheld a shadowy form pacing the room. I sprang up and approached the figure, which glided toward the bed and disappeared in the side. I could sleep no more, but restlessly strode up and down the haunted chamber until morning. I made haste to apprise Lord F. of what I had seen. He was greatly surprised, and informed me that within his own recollection nothing of the sort had been seen. I resolved to make a thorough investigation of everything in the room, and the door in the bed recovered to my mind. On examining this closely I found a slight projection, on pressing which the door flew back, disclosing a flight of stone steps leading to room under the floor. I immediately called Lord F. and informed him of the discovery. With some trepidation we descended the steps, first taking care to procure a light. We found ourselves in a strongly built room about ten feet square. In the middle hung an ancient chandelier, in the iron sockets of which were two or three stubs of candles. In one corner was a small wooden frame in the extreme stages of decay, and beside it a notched blade of iron. We had been there but a few moments when we heard a slight rustle, and looking around, saw coming toward us the same phantom which I had seen the night before. We drew to one side, and it passed by us, and going to the wooden frame, stooped, picked up the blade of iron and went into the series of remarkable motions. This the ghost kept up for quite a while, but at last stopped, and taking up what seemed to be a rope, bound this around its neck, and catching hold of the chandelier with one hand, with the other bound the rope to the iron, and then with a yell disappeared.

During this scene we stood motionless, not daring to move a muscle.
When at last the supernatural being left us we rushed up the stairs, and breathed free when once we arrived in the room above. For several days we pondered over this. Lord F. could think of nothing in connection with his family history which could throw any light on this subject. Several times we entered the chamber, and twice witnessed the same strange performance of the specter, which haunted the apartment. One day while ascending the steps I noticed a box or sort of cupboard protruding from the side of the bed. I pointed this out to my friend, and on examining it we found a great number of papers, among which was an ancient note book, which proved to be the diary of Lord F.'s grandfather. On careful examination of this book we found the following entries, which enlightened us respecting the ghost:

"To-day we captured a spy, whom we put in ye cello under ye oak room."

"Also for MAY 20TH.
To-day our captive was found hanging from ye ceiling of his cell.
He was entire dead."

"Our ghost was evidently that of this captive spy, come back to haunt the cell in which he had taken his life. We found another entry of interest, which read as follows:

"August 14TH.
We have had to close ye Oak Room because it is troubled by ye ghost of our former spy. Every night he walks and goes thro' ye motion of cutting wood, at which employment he was kept while living."

This statement explained to us the meaning of the strange antics of the specter. Soon after Lord F. filled up the cell, and since then my ghostly visitor has not been seen.—

For the Stomach's Ache.
Joe Howard, a veteran New York journalist, who has wrestled successfully with a hundred epidemics and frank enough whisky to float a gun-boat, gives the following advice to persons whose aching stomachs warn them of the approach of cholera or something like it: "First and foremost, avoid brandy, whisky, and gin.
They allay the pain temporarily, but they excite, exasperate, and inflame the stomach, and worse remains behind. Avoid all 'cholera medicines,' which are all made of laudanum, peppermint, red pepper, and camphor. They too, allay the pain, but the latter effect is excessively unpleasant. They are a delusion and a snare. In this case, as in nearly everything in life, the simplest and safest is the best. Take a spoonful of the essence of ginger in a wineglass of water, the hotter the better, and make it palatable with a little sugar.
It acts like magic, and after a few rials the pain and all unpleasant symptoms disappear, and you are bunk-dori. Aside, however, from the disputed point of what is the best remedy, is the fact that so many careful, prudent people just now are suffering from this weakening and demoralizing trouble, and the further noticeable fact, so many men die suddenly from it. Facts."
